

Hazardous materials / Non-Allowables

You may be surprised to see some of these items labeled "hazardous," but there are good reasons to leave them off of a hot shaking truck where their containers may break and mix with other materials. Fertilizer, for example, can become extremely explosive under the right conditions. Cologne, improperly packed, has made a huge stinky mess in more than a couple jobs. Now consider these items breaking in a box which sits right above a bunch of boxes that contain personal treasures... Let's not let that happen.

Give the stuff away, or as with dangerous chemicals web search for your city's required information on where to dispose of it properly. Please don't dump poisons and make our planet and wild life suffer.

Acumen is trying to help YOU by not transporting the following:

Acids	Liquid bleach
Aerosols	Loaded guns
Ammonia	Matches
Ammunition	Motor oil
Car batteries	Nail polish
Charcoal	Nail polish remover
Charcoal lighter fluid	Paint thinner
Chemistry sets	Paints
Cleaning solvents	Pesticides
Darkroom chemicals	Poisons
Fertilizer	Pool chemicals
Fire extinguisher	Propane tanks
Fireworks	Reloading supplies
Gasoline	SCUBA tanks
Lots of household batteries	Sterno
Kerosene	Weed killer
Lamp oil

If, by chance, you pack hazardous items despite UniMove's warning, and there is damage to the truck, YOU will be held financially responsible for those damages.